Nation Displays Power For Peace in Marking Day for Armed Forces

Wilson Says U.S. to Add Firepower

Observances Vary Throughout Land

Washington, May 19 (AP)—The nation flexes its military muscles today in a display of men, aircraft, guns and missiles in celebration of Armed Forces Day.

Secretary of Defense Wilson set the tone for the demonstration, saying it would be an "exhibition of power for peace and in no sense for intimidation or aggression."

WILSON TOLD a banquet last night that the United States means to keep its armed forces at about present size and to give them even better equipment and firepower.

"There is no clear indication," Wilson said, "that the world situation has improved to the point where we can importantly modify our policy of strength for the long pull."

At least one part of the planned demonstration of U. S. military might scaled down, apparently to avoid a jarring note in present talk about possible world disarmament.

THE AIR FORCE had planned to send a record mass flight of 216 B47 medium all-jet bombers over the nation's capital and several other eastern cities. However, Eisenhower yesterday ordered the fly-over reduced to 45 bombers, one wing in strength. And the flight plan was limited to Washington and neighboring Baltimore.

Factors which may have figured in the decision to mute the air force show were the somewhat subdued aspects of Russia's May Day celebration this year and the current visit to this country of President Sukarno of Indonesia, an Asian neutralist leader.

Teachers Recognition Day Scheduled Monday

Teachers Recognition Day will be celebrated in the Kingston school system on Monday, May 21.

Mrs. Vincent Connelly, a member of the local board of education, announced at the last meeting of that body that a tea would be held at the high school on the afternoon of May 21 in honor of the city's teaching staff.

Mrs. Connelly also called attention to the following statement by Mary Mead, principal of the Washington Irving High School, New York city, which seems particularly fitting at this time:

"Wouldn't you enjoy opening the doors of learning to six-year-olds?"

"Wouldn't you get a thrill when one of your students writes her first poem?"

"Wouldn't you see your own success when a deaf child reads your lips?"

"Wouldn't you relive your own adolescence when you help the students to run their junior prom?"

"Wouldn't you feel as if you (Continued on Page 3, Col. 6)

Senators Confident Farm Bill Will Be Law Next Week

Washington, May 19 (AP)—Senate leaders expressed hope today a new farm bill will become law next week without further controversy.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said he would recommend that President Eisenhower sign the measure which the Senate passed by a voice vote last night, if the House accepts a series of changes the Senate made.

Whether the House would agree was not immediately apparent, but Aiken and Sen. Anderson (D-N.M.) forecast such action, and Sen. Ellender (D-La.) spoke of getting the measure to the White House Tuesday or Wednesday.

"I think we now have as good a bill as it is possible to get at this session," said Aiken, who frequently speaks for the Eisenhower administration on farm matters. "I will recommend that the President sign it unless there is some feature I do not understand or know about."

The bill replaces a more comprehensive measure Eisenhower vetoed April 16. As its principal feature it authorized the $1. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

Beresford Checked $3,500 In Drawer Day Wife Died

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 19 (AP)—Lloyd Beresford has testified that he personally checked $3,500 in a bureau drawer on the morning his wife was burned to death in their home at nearby Staatsburg.

Beresford, prominent dog show judge, took the stand yesterday in the murder trial of Wells Van Steenberg, 21, a family friend. The prosecution contends Van Steenberg sprayed Mrs. Beresford, 35, with gasoline and set her afire after she fainted upon finding him stealing the money from the drawer.

A physician has testified medical evidence showed Mrs. Beresford was alive before she burned to death last Oct. 8.

A Dutchess county fire official testified that at least five fires had been set in the house. When Van Steenberg was arrested in Bridgeport, Conn., last Nov. 2, police said they found $3,470 in cash hidden under the seat of a friend's car.

Beresford told the judge that, (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Rhee Aides Won't Quit Because of Opposition

Seoul, May 19 (AP)—Government leaders denied today published reports that the entire Rhee cabinet and many administration Liberal party leaders would resign because of the large opposition vote in Tuesday's election.

President Syngman Rhee conceded that a bitter political opponent had defeated his hand-picked candidate for the vice presidency.

"Although I cannot officially announce the outcome, I think Chang Myun has been elected," Rhee said in a statement. "Since the will of the people has been reflected in the election, I will carry out my duty in accordance with the people's will."

Two Seoul newspapers, which have been critical of Rhee's administration but are not considered opposition, carried the reports of en masse resignations. The English language Korean Times and Korean language Hangook Ilbo said the decision was made yesterday at a secret cabinet meeting.

Hangook Ilbo said party leaders were embarrassed that Rhee had polled only 52 per cent of the presidential vote when they had predicted 80 per cent.

One spokesman said that while the cabinet would not resign immediately, it probably would submit resignations when Rhee begins his third term to give him "a free hand to form a new administration." He pointed out that such action "is a custom everywhere."

Democrats hailed Rhee's statement conceding Chang's election. "If President Rhee will accept with a big heart the sincere proposals of Dr. Chang, he will cooperate fully," said Choung Pyung Ok, Democratic Party leader.

Rhee's statement was expected to spur a prompt resumption (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Says U. S. Might Prevents Shooting

Buffalo, N. Y., May 19 (AP)—The man who led Polish exile troops in World War 2 says that only American armed strength is preventing a shooting war between east and west.

Gen. Wladyslaw Anders added that the only way to insure world peace was for America "to maintain and add to her strength."

Anders, who lives in London, Eng., arrived here yesterday to attend the annual convention this week end of the Polish National Unity Committee and the Polish National Relief Fund.

Stokowski To Appear 3rd Week

Elaine Malbin Is Premiere Soloist

Plans have been completed for opening of the second season of the Empire State Music Festival at Ellenville Wednesday, July 4. The music festival will run for four weeks this season with programs Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday except for the week of July 19, 20 and 21 when the days will be changed to Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

THOSE THREE will find the renowned Leopold Stokowski conducting the July 19, 20, and 21 evening performances during this third week. Frank Forest, general manager of the music festival, revealed at a meeting of the Catskill Mountain Civic Association this week, that the Symphony of the Air orchestra (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Reaction Mixed On Red Cutback

London, May 19 (AP)—Soviet pressure on Britain and the United States to match the cuts Russia says she is making in her armed forces drew mixed reaction today in London and Washington.

Fifty-five opposition labor members of Parliament hailed the Soviet announcement and called for an early end to Britain's draft, sharp cuts in defense spending and swift action to secure a world disarmament pact.

In Washington, Defense Secretary Wilson said the United States expects to maintain armed forces of their present size for years to come. Moreover, he added, these forces would be given new weapons and equipment "which will make the maximum use of firepower."

156th Will Train Here On Sunday

Outdoor training exercises for the 156 Field Artillery Battalion are scheduled Sunday at the State Armory, Manor avenue. It was announced today by Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer.

The exercises supplant training nights usually held during the inclement weather period, Col. Harkin said, and men who report for Sunday training are excused from the regular Monday and Tuesday evening sessions. Stress will be placed on functional teams within the units, he said.

HEADQUARTERS Battery and Battery A of the battalion spent last Saturday on the rifle ranges at West Point and it was reported that "some gratifying scores" were attained during the marksmanship practice.

This weekend the organization will set up its kitchens in the rear of the armory and feed the men of the battalion a hot noon meal during the intensive training phase.

The battalion staff was scheduled to report at the armory this afternoon to undergo an intensive command post exercise continuing through tonight and Sunday.

BATTERY B and Battery C, stationed at Poughkeepsie, were scheduled to move into the armory today for an overnight stay and a scheduled gun crew training. Col. Harkin said the Service Battery of the battalion will support the entire program, using a portion of the battery this afternoon.

Water Approval Sought In Flatbush Home Area

Kingsvalve Water Co., Inc., a water company organized to supply the Whittier community at Flatbush with water, has made an application to the New York State Water Power and Control Commission for approval of a system, which in its initial stage will secure its supply from deep wells. In the second stage of the development water will be taken from the Hudson river.

A public hearing will be held on June 5, at 1 p. m. at the Town of Ulster town hall. At the public hearing both the immediate and the ultimate plans will be reviewed.

Masterplan, which is developing the Whittier community at Flatbush, plans to organize a community of 5,000 homes with all facilities. The initial stage of the water system is designed to secure water from deep wells to supply some 400 to 500 homes. The plan calls for taking the larger supply later from the Hudson to supply the development.

In conjunction with the water supply, the community will also be served with a community sewer system and the town board of the town of Ulster at a meeting last Wednesday had presented to it a petition for a sewer district to serve the Whittier development.

All facilities will be constructed by the developers and will be presented to the district when formed. The petition is signed by the owners of 75 per cent or more of the assessed valuation in the area. A public hearing on the petition to form a sewer district will shortly be announced by the town board of the town of Ulster.

Abraham Streifer is attorney for the petitioners.

Port Ewen Plant Receives Safety Plaque for Record

A program at the Port Ewen plant of Hercules Powder Co. fits in appropriately with Accident Prevention Week in Industry proclaimed by President Eisenhower for the period of May 14-18.

J. D. Hayes of Wilmington, Del., assistant manager of explosives, presented a National Safety Council Award for second place in the chemical section to Edward K. Lefren, works manager, for the employees of the plant.

The presentation ceremony took place on the lawn in front of the company office. Mr. Hayes commented on the rapidly increasing safety achievements of the plant. He mentioned that the accident-free record for 1955 merited second place only because another firm, with more employees, compiled a larger number of safe work-hours, and therefore received the first place plaque.

Mr. Lefren complimented each employee upon the excellent record maintained, and expressed his hopes that it may long continue.

In presenting the former Port Ewen works manager, Edmund P. Rochford, Mr. Lefren noted that the award had been earned. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Kingston Seen As New Mecca

Schwarzwaelder Is Praised by Senator

Senator MacNeil Mitchell, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Housing and Multiple Dwellings, yesterday urged private enterprise avail itself of the state aid made possible under the Mitchell sponsored law and provide housing for the middle income group, commonly referred to as the "white collar" group.

Under the Mitchell bill which had now become law, he said, it is possible for small groups of builders to form a syndicate, borrow from the state fund at a low "state" rate of interest, and build this needed housing.

IN REFERRING to the proposed sixth ward clearance and housing project he said this would be a combination of "a small amount of public housing and a large private housing development under the Mitchell law."

Speaking on the Multiple Dwelling law, Senator Mitchell, who has had long experience in housing matters, praised former Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy of Kingston for his familiarity with the law and he also referred to City Building Inspector S. Burrell Schwarzwaelder as "one of the best in the state."

He said enforcement in Kingston has been of a high standard under Schwarzwaelder's administration.

IT HAS BEEN the experience of those charged with enforcement of the law, that most of the multiple dwelling owners desire to comply with the law. "At least 80 per cent are anxious to cooperate and comply," Mitchell said.

However, he urged that every county set up a Board of Review to care for "hardship" cases. Nearly half of the inquiries and questions asked of the Joint Committee on Housing and Multiple Dwellings are directed toward "hardship" cases. Adoption of a county board of review where these cases might be heard, Mitchell said would be of great value.

Two things are needed to solve the housing problem, Mitchell said. The legislature believes both of these things are required: first new housing and secondly rehabilitation of existing dwellings to multiple-use.

ADDITIONAL new construction at double the present rate will not solve the problem and he pointed out that rehabilitation of existing dwellings for multiple use is essential and can be completed with a minimum of time.

Ground-Breaking Rites Set Sunday by Church

The congregation of Fair Street Reformed Church will participate Sunday in a special religious program marking the breaking of ground for the new Christian Education building and parish house adjacent to the church.

The prayer service will be held immediately after the regular 11 a. m. worship, it has been announced by the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, on the site where the old Crosby house stood. The building was razed recently to make way for the modern structure to take its place.

Three traditional "turns of earth" will be made by church members of different ages handling the shovel, symbolizing the link between past and future, and the joining of the new building of contemporary design to the church, which is the oldest house of worship in the city.

Two of the oldest living members of the church will take the shovel first — Mrs. Isabel D. Herdman of 35 Snyder avenue, who united with the church in December, 1884, and Joseph D. Turner of 197 Main street, who joined in 1889. At the age of 90 he is the oldest living male member of the congregation.

Symbolic of moving from past to future, three of the littlest church school tots will take the shovel—Anne E. Roberts, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Roberts; Alan DeForest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow DeForest, and Susan Brenner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brenner.

The third "turn of earth" will be made by three daughters of ministers of the church—Miss (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Christian Science Lecture Will Be Given on Sunday

The motion picture "John Wesley" will be shown at Trinity Methodist Church, Wurts and Hunter streets, Sunday at 7:30 p. m., according to the Rev. John L. Riehoff, pastor.

The feature-length film is in Eastman color and was produced by the Radio and Film Commission of the Methodist Church in cooperation with J. Arthur Rank. It brings to the screen for the first time the dynamic and colorful 18th century evangelist and educator, the Rev. Mr. Riehoff announced.

JOHN WESLEY'S miraculous rescue from a burning house at the age of five, at the beginning of the film forecasts the dramatic and eventful life which unfolds in this but of impelling influence upon his contemporaries and upon history, he said.

The English clergyman thought his venture in America as a missionary to the Indians in the Georgia colony was a failure, but it was the kind of failure which opened the door to the discovery of a religious certainty he had been seeking.

Furthermore, this discovery, in which John Wesley felt his "heart strangely warmed," led him to face mobs unafraid, to ride 25,000 miles on horseback, changing the masses of English people from a low state of moral degradation to sturdy and happy uprightness, the Rev. Mr. Riehoff said.

Members of Trinity congregation invite the public to see this film.

Observer Sought Following Crash On Bomb Mission

USS Mt. McKinley, off Bikini, May 19 (AP)—Ships and planes from Task Force 7 searched today for an air force observer missing from a B57 bomber that crashed on a futile H-bomb mission.

The test had been postponed because of bad weather just three minutes after the plane took off.

THE MISSING man was Capt. Paul M. Crumley whose wife lives at Albuquerque, N. M.

Task Force commanders said the hunt would continue until the missing captain was found or it was decided hunting further would be futile.

The long-delayed H-bomb blast is now scheduled tentatively for Sunday, U. S. time.

Capt. James Edward Hill, the pilot and the only other man aboard the small bomber, said it went out of control at 24,000 feet.

HILL SAID he had ordered Crumley to leave the plane and then had left himself, working an ejection mechanism. Hill parachuted to the ocean, got into a one-man life raft and was picked up by a destroyer.

He said he noticed icing at 20,000 feet and had received permission to go to 24,000.

Mrs. Crumley said she had been notified the plane was struck by lightning. No such information was made public by the task force.

TASK FORCE 7 held up news of the accident for 30 hours.

The plane crashed some 50 miles off Eniwetok Island.

Hill's plane was to have penetrated the bomb cloud after the test blast.

The H-bomb blast has been delayed until now because the task force was afraid unfavorable weather would carry the fallout outside the posted area.

Byrd Sees Committee Favoring Road Taxes

Washington, May 19 (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today his Senate Finance Committee probably will approve the taxes to pay for a big highway construction program largely as they were voted by the House.

The committee closed two days of hastily staged public hearings on the tax features of the bill yesterday. Byrd has called a closed committee session Monday for votes on these sections.

He told a reporter it was possible the bill could be called up on the Senate floor later next week.

Sen. Long (D-La.), a finance member, questioned whether any new taxes were necessary for the roadbuilding program. He said that motorists and truck operators now pay 2½ billion dollars annually in various taxes. This would pay even for the greatly stepped up construction program envisaged in pending legislation, he added.

Boy Missing Nearly Three Hours Is Found

A three-year-old boy missing for nearly three hours was found in the woods about a mile from his home in St. Remy by a member of the St. Remy Fire Department Friday night.

Paul Tyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tyler of St. Remy was reported missing from his home Friday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Peter Petersen. The sheriff's office was notified shortly before 7 o'clock that the child had been missing since about 4:45 p. m.

Justice of the Peace Allan Dargie was notified by the sheriff's office and the St. Remy firemen were called out to search. Deputies Newkirk and Petersen also joined the search.

The boy was uninjured when found according to the sheriff's office report.

200,000,000 soil bank program he requested as a means of paying farmers to take surplus crop land out of production.

Neither the Senate nor the House approved, however, Eisenhower's request for authority to pay farmers this year a portion of the money to which they would be entitled for compliance next year.

The measure still includes some provisions to which Eisenhower has objected, but Senate compromises on feed grain supports and parity levels yesterday tended to bring those features closer to Eisenhower's views.

Missing from the bill are requirements for rigid, higher support prices, a two-way system of figuring parity prices and many other provisions which brought on Eisenhower's veto of the earlier measure. Parity is a price determined by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

In its effort to avoid another battle with the House, the Senate at one point backed up and rejected an amendment it had just adopted to put a dollar ceiling on price support and soil bank payments to any one farmer.

This desirability makes necessary housing if the area is to continue to grow and expand. He urged that private enterprise be appraised of the availability of state loans at low interest for housing which could provide housing for the middle income group which is not seeking the low rent of public housing or the high cost of expensive homes. This "white collar" group has been the "forgotten man" for the past ten years he said. It is for this middle group that state aid provided under the Mitchell law can supply housing.

HE POINTED out that $50 millions was voted last year and a referendum would be submitted this fall calling for an additional $100 million. This is not a grant, he pointed out, but a loan at low state rate of interest which will permit private capital, which can meet requirements and provide 10 per cent of the construction cost, to engage on a building program to provide this needed housing. Participating in the project must be private capital, state loan and also some local tax concessions if the program is to function best.

Senator Mitchell pointed out that a form of local tax exemption does not of necessity mean a loss of revenue to the community. Increased tax value of surrounding areas, more revenue to the community from additional payrolls, new industry attracted to the area where adequate housing is provided, all tends to increase municipal income and the benefits derived can well offset any tax dollar lost through tax exemptions made to encourage new housing.

Mitchell advocated a "three pronged" approach to the solution of the housing problem:

FIRST, THROUGH the city with a tax, school and municipal plan. Secondly through the state by taking advantage of the provisions of the Mitchell law to provide housing. Third through the Federal Urban Renewal plan. These three things could form a composite, workable plan for solving the problem which faces most communities where shortage of housing exists.

Senator Mitchell said he expected the next Legislature to "make it easier" to meet this need.

Under the Mitchell law, he pointed out, builders, management, architects, local banks and other local persons could well benefit by its advantages and the entire community be better served.

SENATOR MITCHELL spoke at the school for enforcement of officers and fire inspectors under the Multiple Residence Law at Governor Clinton Hotel Friday. The meeting was attended by about 150 officials from the 14 county area, called together by the Joint Legislative Committee on Housing and Multiple Dwellings.

At the session various topics pertinent to the application of the law and its enforcement were discussed. The all day session was concluded late in the afternoon with a question and answer period in which the full panel participated.

Stokowski . . .

will be heard on those three evenings presenting "Mid Summer Night's Dream." The performance on July 19 will be the world premiere of the music.

For the opening performance on July 4, Forest was not prepared to disclose the conductor but said it would be an "exciting performance." Soloist for the opening night will be Elaine Malbin.

FOR THE final concert on Sunday afternoon, July 29, Igor Markwich will conduct. Markwich is presently touring Europe.

Programs will be scheduled for evenings, except the Sunday afternoon performances. Opera will be scheduled Thursdays and Saturdays but thus far only one definite performance has been arranged. That opera is "Marriage of Figaro."

ALL SUNDAY afternoon concerts will be straight symphony. The Wednesday night performances will be special presentations.

Harry Resnick presided at the meeting Wednesday evening as chairman of the Catskill Mountain Civic Association, and announced that the campaign for subscription pledges would start immediately. A large scale organization meeting has been scheduled for May 25 at Tamarack Lodge, Greenfield Park.

Rhee Aides . . .

of ballot counting in Taegu, an opposition stronghold. Counting was suspended there Thursday with both parties charging irregularities. Rhee suggested that the Taegu election committee settle the dispute and resume the tally.

Chang has a nationwide lead of 86,380 votes over Lee Ki Poong, Rhee's running mate, with only about 180,000 votes in Taegu remaining to be counted. He is expected to widen the lead.

Meanwhile, funeral services were postponed indefinitely for P. H. Shinick, Democratic presidential candidate who died while campaigning 10 days before the election. A party spokesman said the reason was "great excitement among the people as a result of the election." The dead candidate drew nearly 2 million votes.

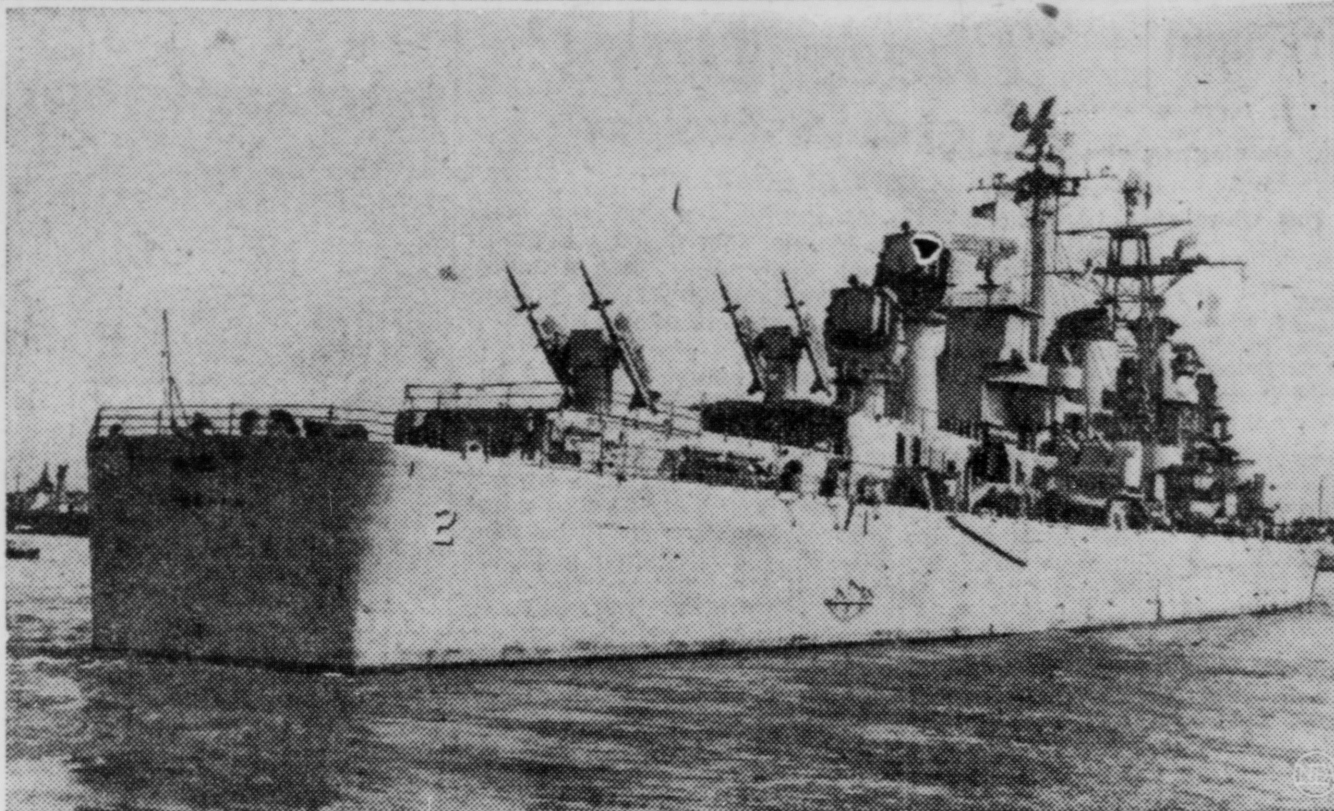

Kindergarten Pupils In Ulster to Register

Kindergarten registration for Chambers School District No. 8, town of Ulster, will be held in the temporary classrooms at Ulster Hose Co. No. 5, Albany avenue extension, daily during the week of May 21 at 11:30 a. m. and 2:30 p. m.

Reginald Russell, school principal, announced that parents should bring birth certificates. To be eligible for kindergarten in September, Mr. Russell said children must be four years, nine months of age by the opening day of school next September.

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Ellenville, May 19 — Miss Gladys Decker of the Home National Bank staff will leave Sunday to spend her annual vacation with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gross Schoonmaker, at Miami, Fla.

Mrs. Ione Dockstadter of Phoenix, Ariz., a native of Ellenville, has returned to her home, after visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas G. Russett of Elm street. Mrs. Dockstadter, who is president of the National Association of Nursing Home owners, attended conferences at Albany, Troy and Washington, D. C. while in the east. Prior to her departure she spoke to the students of Ulster Heights School where her cousin, E. Michael Russett, teaches. Miss Dockstadter is an authority on the folklore and history of the American Indian.

Edward Boos of Bridgeport, Conn. spent Mother's Day with his mother, Mrs. Katherine Boos. Charles Eck, of Attica is spending a few days in town with relatives.

Mrs. M. Kahn has taken a position in the office of Allen D. Potter, Inc.

Mrs. William F. Kelb, accompanied by her son, William, was in New York city Wednesday visiting her eye specialist.

Mrs. Kenneth R. Kyle has returned to her home after having been hospitalized.

Fred Craft, of Elting court, has been undergoing examinations at Veterans Memorial Hospital, the past several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Hall, of Delmar, are planning to spend the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hall.

Heather Elizabeth, infant daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans, was baptized Sunday morning in the Ellenville Methodist Church.

Miss Olive Seaman entertained the Rev. and Mrs. Dorr E. Fritts at Judies in Kingston Wednesday.

Miss Theodore Wittmer has returned to school after having been ill for about three weeks, part of which time she was a patient at Veterans Memorial Hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Wittmer.

Nation Displays Teachers . . .

ever there is a military post, base or station the welcome sign has been hung out for citizens to come and see parts of the mighty and growing U. S. military machine.

THE DAY'S demonstrations centered in Washington, where everything from military medical equipment to ballistic missiles was ready for display at Bolling Air Force Base.

Open to public inspection for the first time were the air force Snark long-range missile and the navy's Regulus bombardment missile.

At Selfridge Air Force Base in Michigan the army put on display its own candidate for medium range ballistic missile attention, the Redstone. In Washington and elsewhere civilians got a chance for closeup inspection of the army's Nike anti-aircraft missile.

THIS YEAR'S Armed Forces day celebration for the first time was literally global in extent. An air force plane planned to fly over the north pole and attempt to radio greetings to navy men at the south pole.

Although the air force had to cut the size of its medium bomber flight over Washington, the public was to view flying acrobatics by crack navy and air force stunt teams and a huge B52 heavy jet bomber in flight.

The navy and the air force each planned to display on the ground two different types of supersonic fighter aircraft and a great variety of the latest aviation equipment, including the huge C99 Turboprop transport—a plane much larger than the ship in which Columbus sailed to discover America.

Why don't you become part of this great enterprise? "This is a time to be practical, too. The salaries are not too high, but the school year is 40 weeks long and the school day usually less than seven hours. There is great pleasure in working with colleagues who are similarly idealistic and interested in culture and refinement. These advantages, coupled with the great contribution that the schools make, justify using the title of a best seller of years gone by as a summary, 'All This and Heaven, Too.'"

"A college degree is a prerequisite for the teacher's certificate, so speak to your adviser soon to plan your high school course."

"We, teachers who love our work are waiting to welcome you to the ranks of the most important profession in the world!"

LEGAL HATCHETMAN
The late Andrei Vishinsky was Stalin's legal hatchetman. It was Vishinsky who was public prosecutor in the trial of many of the old Bolsheviks who found disfavor with Stalin and who had to die. Vishinsky helped stage their trials, and it was believed that he was instrumental in devising methods which led them to confess to crimes and beg for punishment, even though they were innocent.

Vishinsky propounded the amazing doctrine that absolute truth was not necessary to convict a person accused of being a traitor to the state. He said that all the state had to prove was the probability of guilt. Communist courts accepted this dogma without question.

Now Vishinsky is being denounced for his violations of legality. It is too late to do any good for the people who were executed during the trials which won Vishinsky his reputation. But now the Soviet apologists can say that under Red justice a man will always get a fair trial. It may be 15 or 20 years after he has been punished for the crime of which he is accused, but he does eventually get a fair trial. Sometimes, anyway.

How can the apologists for Communism reconcile the recent exposures with the past declarations that Communism could do no wrong? Whenever one man, or a few men, dictate the policies, the ethics and the faith of a people, injustice and terror are inevitable. The Communists may censure Stalin and Vishinsky today, but they share in that shame and their philosophy was the basis of that guilt.

MAKINGS OF A FIGHT
A long time bone of contention between the president and Congress is being fought over again. This is the question whether the president and his assistants are bound to give Congress whatever information it may ask for.

As far back as Grover Cleveland, presidents have treated some matters as confidential and none of Congress' business. These include conversations between officials, which might show why the president took what action he did. Included also would be letters of recommendation or disapproval regarding appointments. Of late, information which the president or his aides thought involved national safety has been denied to inquiring congressmen.

Congress has always resented this attitude, maintaining that the nation's legislative body cannot function efficiently without full information. Now the legal staff of the government operations committee has denied the administration's right to withhold information, calling this "a mere naked claim of privilege." This group goes so far as to say that Congress could, without a court order, jail any official who refused its demands.

If matters got to this pass, Congress would run the government, and the president would before long be stripped of his power. There is some merit in the congressional contention that it should not often be refused wanted information. Nothing, however, would justify the lengths to which the committee's legal advisers would carry matters.

SAD BLOW TO ILL-WISHERS
American citizens throughout the country welcome the fresh news that President Eisenhower is keeping his health.

The key fact brought out by his recent full checkup, naturally, is that his heart is "well healed" from the September, 1955, attack even though he has been back in harness since this January.

But it is good to know, too, that by all the other standard measures he is at 65 an extraordinarily well man. His blood pressure is good, so are his lungs and all the rest of his body.

None of this is likely to mean any change in his plan to conduct a restricted campaign for re-election this fall.

The newest examination does tend, however, to reduce somewhat more those lin-

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

ARE YOU SCARED?

Among my recent lighter reading is a book entitled "Our Daily Poison," written by Leonard Wickenden. It is not a whodunit nor a moral tract. Rather, it is a description of the poisons which we consume as a product of industrialization, standardization and modernization. The book does not list all of them, as no book could.

In the good old days when mother spent much of her day cooking and baking, the house always smelled of exciting things to eat, and when we died, it was from something usual like chronic indigestion. In those days when the doctor came to the house, his first command was "Stick your tongue out." Apparently, just by looking at the tongue, he could solve all problems and he usually did by prescribing castor oil for one horn of the dilemma and paregoric for the other. Somehow the human race survived both, as we are here to attest, although by available statistics it should have been otherwise.

Today, according to this book, we eat the products of DDT, Fluorides, Hormones, Chlorine dioxide and the Lord knows what else. Also we vaporize and fumigate and inhale and fill our lungs with poisons from smoke-stacks, from exhausts, and from cigars, cigarettes with or without complex superstructures to get rid of the smoke in spite of the fact that the only sound reason for smoking is to inhale the smoke.

It is a fascinating little book, particularly its attack on store bread which I don't like anyhow, preferring the home-baked or a sour rye or a pumpernickel, none of which I am now permitted to eat because I enjoy them. When one falls into hands of doctors, their rule is, if the patient enjoys it, it is against the diet. But store bread, I do not like, even for a diet.

When I ate for pleasure, I used to cut my bread fairly thick. Nowadays, most bread is cut by machine and comes out about an eighth of an inch thick which is too thin. They even do it to Viennese bread which thus cannot take butter without crumbling the bread. It is a tough life!

However, the author of this book does not quarrel about that. His argument is that the best ingredients are milled out of the grain and are fed to hogs and cattle. If they are good enough for hogs, why not for people? That is a very good question because hogs are fed scientifically, while humans, in this country, eat as much for pleasure as for good health. In fact, most of the breads which I have been instructed to eat, at one time or another, for good health, such as gluten bread, I let stand in the refrigerator until someone comes along and throws the loaf out. The theory used to be that I might be frightened into eating what is good for me—I'd sooner starve.

At any rate, what the author of this book particularly objects to is chlorine dioxide which is a maturing substance. They used to put Agene into bread, only to discover that it was a wrong thing to do. Now, they use chlorine dioxide. It sure was marvellous how the old folks took yeast, flour, water, eggs and sometimes a little milk or sugar and made bread, without a maturing substance, and it tasted good—oh, so good!

That is something that few of the younger generation know anything about. They may know the precise difference between the Marxism of Kautsky and Lenin, but not about the virtues of home-baked bread as compared to store bread wrapped in cellophane and full of chemicals.

Do you know what a polyoxyethylene is? See, even the Food and Drug Administration is not too strong for it in bread, but glycerides—well, you have to put something in store bread or it will dry up and have to be given to the Salvation Army or ground up into bread crumbs and canned. So they put a softener into the bread to keep it soft and fresh even on the third or fourth day.

Anyhow, I read the book with great interest and satisfaction.

I should worry. I'm on a diet anyhow to get skinny and the less I eat, the skinnier I'll get. When men wear whiskers and looked strong, they were not skinny.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

FATALISM AND FEAR ALLIES OF CANCER

"Fatalism and fear are cancer's allies. Despite the vast sums spent on cancer education, which clearly suggests that cancer can be cured, a large number of laymen and physicians maintain a fatalistic and defeatist attitude toward the disease. There are others who do not like to face unhappy situations and so refuse even to think about it. Finally, there are those who exhibit sheer indifference. Such attitudes, of course, permit a continuing toll of death and disability that need not occur." I am quoting from an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association on Cancer Detection which points out that, in terms of benefit to the public, the education and cooperation of the general practitioner are essential.

His attitude and influence hold sway in his office and on his daily rounds. He can begin by developing among his patients a more wholesome attitude on the subject of cancer by encouraging them to bring it out in the open and realize that cancer can spend its fury only when it is concealed by the patient or overlooked by the doctor. We all realize that cancer is a great killer, over 225,000 deaths annually in the United States and probably a great many more which were unrecognized or unreported. At present, early diagnosis and prompt effective treatment by all known accepted procedures constitute our only means of fighting this disease. The quicker the general practitioner arrives at a diagnosis and begins treatment, the more chance the patient has for survival.

The probability of the physician's detecting cancer in his own office is greater than he thinks. It is a strange thing, however, that while cancer invades nearly every organ of the body, it frequently escapes detection because the physician lacks suspicion of it. If cancer is to be found, the physician during every examination must think in terms of cancer. To those who always think of cancer as being buried deep within the body, it is pointed out that one-half of all cancer appears in places that can be routinely examined in the physician's office.

Among these is the female breast, which is the site of 21.7 per cent of all cancer in females. In this case the physician is frequently aided by the patient, as 90 per cent to 95 per cent of breast cancer is discovered by the women themselves usually accidentally. The physician can teach his patients a satisfactory technique for self-examination in this regard. Careful inspection of the skin of the entire body is of great help in discovering cancer as 15.4 per cent of all cancer in males and 10.7 per cent in females occurs in this site. The mouth and throat are other parts of the body easily accessible to inspection and also the sites of thousands of cases of cancer.

It is true that the total cancer picture is not too bright but we should adopt a more aggressive attitude toward it and be on the watch.

gering fears among Republicans, and lingering hopes among some Democrats, that despite all that has been said up to now the President might feel compelled to withdraw from the race before nominating time.

That prospect would seem to have been almost obliterated by the tests at Walter Reed Hospital.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington — (NEA) — Everybody has noticed how much smoother and more talkative members of the Russian embassy staff have become recently as they beat the party path hot and heavy. Here's one reason why:

They have all been taking courses in English. And taking them seriously, too.

Classes are conducted twice a week by an American man and woman who keep a very careful check on each staffer's progress in mastering the English idiom. The grades the Russians make in the courses are sent to Moscow, by the way. Marking is on a 1-2-3 basis.

The Russian gals must also be taking lessons in how to sport American clothes, make-up and hair styles because they're looking more chic these days.

PEOPLE ARE REMARKING that Russian Ambassador Georgi Zaroubin could use a few pointers on how to be one of the boys. Try as he may, the heavy-eyed, brown Russian can't seem to mix easily with a crowd.

Other night at a party, for example, he wandered around aimlessly for a couple of hours and couldn't carry a conversation with anyone.

THIS TOWN pioneered the cocktail party and has now added a new dimension to the birthday party.

Other day 500 reporters, officials and miscellaneous citizens gathered at a gala luncheon to celebrate the 75th birthday of Paul Wooton, Capitol correspondent for the New Orleans

Times-Picayune for close to half a century.

Paul is one of the nicest, most-beloved and best-known gents in Washington.

Next one of its kind coming up is for the 80th birthday of Cyrus S. Ching, first director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. He's a real nice guy, too, and the 500 tickets for the dinner were snapped up immediately. However, if you see Cy, don't mention the party. It's going to be a surprise affair.

SEN. ALEXANDER WILEY (R-Wis.) and Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-N. Y.) rounded up 30 Washington kids in the Senate dining room recently to feed them milk shakes made out of powdered milk. It was a publicity stunt for the milk industry.

But when genial Sen. Wiley offered one boy—obviously older than the rest—a shake, the lad replied:

"I'd just as soon have a glass of Wisconsin beer, if you don't mind."

Somewhat taken aback, the senator explained that beer was not served in the Senate dining room, although it can be served in the House dining room. The lad drank his milk shake.

POLITICOS are beginning to move in what the town laughingly calls the "smart satellite set."

An evening ago Senators Henry Dworshak (R-Ida.), Dennis Chavez (D-N.M.) and Theodore Francis Greene (D-R.I.) dropped by the Czechoslovakian embassy. Occasion was a lavish reception and buffet to celebrate the country's national holiday.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson officially accepted an invitation to the affair but called at the last minute to say he couldn't make it. Seems a family situation had arisen that took precedence.

The State Department was represented by John Simmons, chief of protocol, who came in a dapper looking tux and drank Czech beer.

Bubbly French pink champagne was also served, among other liquids. The buffet featured giant Czech hot dogs and potato salad. Mounds of caviar and salmon kept the high-class eaters content.

VIRGINIA WARREN, daughter of Chief Justice Earl Warren, and TV funny man George Gobel composed notes at a cocktail party here and decided that Washington was a bigger party town than Hollywood.

George was here for some publicity gimmick and he got on the subject with Virginia, who is a native Californian. He had been to four parties that day and was obviously exhausted. Virginia explained to him that Washington partying was rougher because you couldn't sit down or go swimming, like you can at typical California parties.

Students to Test Driving Skills

Students at Kingston High School will pit their driving skills against time in a series of tests Wednesday, May 23 at 1 p. m., it was announced today by Clifford Miller, principal.

Several students will drive a specially equipped demonstration car at 20 miles per hour and make emergency stops. Other students will measure the stopping distances.

The tests are designed to get rid of the foolish notion that a car can "stop on a dime," Mr. Miller said.

The car is equipped to measure stopping distances accurately. An emergency signal light is mounted on the hood and three revolvers are fastened on the front bumper. Aimed straight at the pavement, the guns fire bullets of yellow paint to mark points at which drivers (1) see the emergency signal, (2) slam on the brakes, and (3) stop the car.

The automobile is supplied by Nationwide Insurance. A safety engineer for the firms rides beside each driver and operates the equipment.

The companies' engineers have staged similar demonstrations before some 5,000 school assemblies in the eastern United States.

The demonstration will take place on the south side of the school. The public is invited.

Douglas Wins Place On Finance Group

Washington, May 19 (AP)—By dint of his seniority, Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) has won assignment to the Senate Finance Committee, despite opposition of some members of that group who consider him as too "liberal" politically.

Seniority also was decisive yesterday in the selection of Sen. Long (D-La.) to sit on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The death of Sen. Barkley (D-Ky.) had left vacancies on each of these two important committees.

A beneath-the-surface controversy over Douglas' bid for the finance group seat was resolved when Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas announced the Senate Democratic Steering Committee had agreed the seniority rule should apply.

Mr. and Mrs. Hecht were surprised when an original song, Our Wedding Ring is Still New, was sung to them in observance of their 25th wedding anniversary, and they were presented with gifts from the Grange.

A corsage of red carnations was given the youngest mother present and one of white carnations given to the youngest grandmother.

Guests present included Mrs. George Mullenbauer, P. O. Box 1, leader from Rosendale and 12 members from Plattekill Grange. There were 44 local members attending. A degree practice will be held Tuesday night. On June 18 Highland will visit Clinton.

ILGWU May Refrain From '56 Endorsement

Atlantic City, N. J., May 10 (AP)—The International Ladies' Garment Workers Union (ILGWU) may concentrate on congressional elections rather than endorse a 1956 presidential candidate.

The ILGWU says it may be much easier for the labor movement "to seek out direction and implementation of its goals and ambitions on the congressional level" rather than endorse political leaders "whose liberalism is tainted with regressive policies or anti-New Deal philosophy and outlook."

The opinion was expressed in a report unanimously approved by delegates at the windup of the union's triennial convention here yesterday.

Car Hits House

Police reported at 4:45 a. m. today that a 1949 sedan owned and operated by Lemuel Ploss, 42, of 608 Broadway, heading north on Wilbur avenue, ran into a house at 159 Wilbur avenue, corner of South Wall street, owned by Theodore Letts. The front end of the car was damaged and towed away while the front porch of the house was damaged, police said.

Briefly Told

Washington, May 19 (AP)—A bill was signed by President Eisenhower yesterday extending the time in which a bridge can be built across the St. Lawrence river at or near Ogdensburg, N. Y.

Rep. Kilburn (R-N.Y.) introduced the measure, under which the Ogdensburg Bridge Authority must begin construction of the span within four years and complete it in not more than six.

Glens Falls, N. Y., May 19 (AP)—A Queens girl last night won the New York state oratorical contest sponsored by the Knights of Pythias. Miss Barbara Kellerman won a medal and watch and the right to compete in the national contest at New Orleans in August.

Miss Helen Dewoyciechowsky of Spring Valley was runner up among six contestants from various parts of the state.

Albany, N. Y., May 19 (AP)—A public hearing will be held May 21 (10 a. m.) in New York city on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad's proposal to raise commuter and school fares in New York state by 25 per cent.

Court Order Blocks L. I. Rail Strike

New York, May 19 (AP)—A Federal Court order has blocked a strike on the Long Island Rail Road for at least another nine days.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (Ind.) had threatened to strike the world's busiest commuter line Monday in a protest over equipment and operation. Wages and hours were not involved.

The railroad, which carries about 300,000 fares daily, sought an anti-strike injunction in Brooklyn Federal Court.

Federal Judge Robert A. Inch yesterday scheduled arguments on the injunction move for next Wednesday. Meanwhile, he signed a 10-day stay against any strike.

The railroad seeks to amend its tariff so as to increase fares on July 1.

Glens Falls, N. Y., May 19 (AP)—A net loss of $423,970 for the first three months of 1956, compared with a net gain of $781,536 for the first quarter of 1955, has been reported by the Glens Falls group of insurance companies.

The loss was a result of "bad underwriting" in fires, extended coverage, ocean marine losses, automobile insurance and workmen's compensation, George Mead, president of the Glens Falls Insurance Co., said yesterday.

The group includes the Glens Falls Insurance Co., Glens Falls Indemnity Co. and Commerce Insurance Co.

Chicago, May 19 (AP)—The chairman of Cornell University Medical School's Department of Biochemistry last night was presented the 1956 Willard Gibbs medal by the American Chemical Society.

Vincent Du Vigneaud, 55, winner of the 1955 Nobel Prize in chemistry, was awarded the medal as leader of a research team that achieved the first synthesis of a hormone, oxytocin, an important factor in child birth and lactation.

The award was presented at a dinner given by the Chicago section of the society.

Bill to Aid TV Reception Put In by Wharton

Congressman J. Ernest Wharton this week introduced a bill which he feels will eventually aid television in fringe areas where reception has proven difficult on account of natural obstructions.

A resident of Richmondville, he represents the 29th Congressional District comprising Ulster, Dutchess, Greene, Columbia and Schoharie counties.

THE PROPOSED legislation directs the Federal Communications Commission to provide rules and regulations for the use and operation of reflector facilities and VHF translators designed to promote the extension of satisfactory reception to smaller communities and isolated areas at a reasonable cost.

Congressman Wharton said that he has received numerous complaints from communities of his district that are situated at a disadvantage from nearby broadcasting stations.

THE CONGRESSMAN said the localities are frequently willing and able to construct reflector or translator facilities but such action has been barred by the commission, which fears local interference with normal transmission facilities and the entire matter is presently bogged down in the Federal courts.

A hearing on the proposal has been requested of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce at which time it is hoped the television industry as well as interested communities will participate in working out some practical solution to the problem.

Area Church Receives Special Mention Award

Rochester Reformed Church, Accord, with the Rev. George D. Wood, pastor, received honorable mention in the annual competition to determine the "Rural Church of the Year."

The Mc Lean Community Church, a small country church in upstate Tompkins county was designated the winner of $300 first prize.

The annual competition is jointly sponsored by the New York State Council of Churches, the Town and Country Church Development program of the Middle Atlantic area and Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

The contest was based on 1955 accomplishments in three fields, designated as "toward a better church, a better community and a better world."

Fourteen U. S. national guardsmen won the Medal of Honor during World War 2.

Glenerie Bridge Club Opens Spring Series

The first game in the spring series of duplicate bridge sessions was held Friday night at the Glenerie Bridge Club, 373 Washington avenue.

They produced the most closely contested duplicate so far held at the local club, only half a match point separating the first three pairs.

THE RESULT was a tie for first place between the Ellen-ville-Woodstock pair of Harry Thayer and Laszlo Sima and the Kingston pair of Bill Potocko and "Laddie" Wheatcroft.

Mr. Thayer and Mr. Sima, playing their usual sound game, were matched all the way by the enterprising play of Mr. Potocko and Mr. Wheatcroft.

Lloyd Fulk and C. Seymour Stevens took third place and were only one-half match point behind the top two pairs.

Bob Craig and Bob Suda were fourth and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Greene were in fifth spot.

The club will hold its usual duplicate game at 7:45 p. m., Friday, May 25.

Exam for Health Inspector Slated

A competitive examination for sanitary inspector in the Ulster County Health Department was announced today by Thomas Bohan, executive secretary of the Ulster County Civil Service Commission.

At present two vacancies exist. The list resulting from this examination will be used to fill future vacancies. Salary range is from $3,000 to $3,600.

LAST DATE for filing applications is June 5. The examination will be held June 23.

A year of satisfactory sanitary inspection experience or satisfactory completion of an approved course of instruction is required. Additional requirements are graduation from a standard senior high school, including courses in general science, mathematics and chemistry, plus one more year of satisfactory inspection experience or a satisfactory equivalent combination or education experience and training whereby candidates may substitute an additional year of education and training for one year of satisfactory sanitary inspection experience.

Civil Service Exams

Applications for junior scientist, chemist, physicist, mathematician, metallurgist, electronic scientist and engineer must be received in the office of the director, Second United States Civil Service Region, Federal building, Christopher street, New York city not later than the close of business, June 4.

A copy of the announcement or information in regard to the position offered may be obtained either in person or in writing from the above mentioned office.

Democrats to Map '56 Campaign at Upstate Parleys

Thomas J. Plunket, chairman of the Ulster County Democratic Committee, will be among county chairmen in the state attending the first two of five workshop meetings next week "to kick off plans for the 1956 campaign," it was announced today by Michael H. Prendergast, Democratic state chairman.

Mr. Prendergast told the Associated Press in New York that Carmine G. DeSapio, Democratic national committeeman, will join in the talks.

THE FIRST conference is set for Monday at 12:30 p. m. in the Sheraton-Ten Eyck Hotel, Albany. A second will follow on Wednesday at the Concord Hotel, Kiamesha Lake and a third on Thursday at the Cortland Country Club, Cortland.

Two more conferences of 16 western New York leaders will be scheduled later this month, Mr. Prendergast said.

PRENDERGAST said the following county chairmen will attend the first two meetings:

Albany—Daniel P. O'Connell, Albany county; Walter V. Newell, Clinton; Jesse R. Sharlette, Essex; John Hughes, Franklin; George L. Peck, Fulton; Henry Rogers, Hamilton; Floyd C. Hater, Herkimer; James J. Butler, Jefferson; Louis C. Britton, Lewis; James P. Wilson, Montgomery; John Purcell, Rensselaer; Joseph T. Hammer, Saratoga; Adam F. Ciesinski, Schoenectady; John D. Vankenn, St. Lawrence; Adrian Mason, Suffolk; D. Frank Sullivan, Warren; Francis J. Tierney, Washington.

Kiamesha Lake—Thomas H. Quinn, Columbia; Paul G. Williams, Delaware; Joseph F. Hawkins, Dutchess; James E. O'Connell Jr., Greene; John Stillman, Orange; Frank Reardon, Otsego; Alpha R. Whiton, Putnam; Sharon J. Maugh, Schoharie; Harry Borden, Sullivan; Thomas J. Plunket, Ulster; Harold T. Garrity, Westchester.

Woman Convicted Of Tax Evasion

New York, May 19 (AP)—Mrs. Hattie Freeman Dodson, congressional secretary for Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.), yesterday was convicted of income tax evasion.

A federal court jury, after deliberating 3½ hours, found the 46-year-old woman guilty of all nine counts in the indictment.

Judge Irving R. Kaufman set sentencing for June 4. Mrs. Dodson faces a maximum of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine on each of the counts. Pending sentencing, Mrs. Dodson was freed in $500 bail.

She was accused of cheating the government out of $5,000 in income taxes from 1948 to 1952, of collecting $2,000 in illegal refunds, and of claiming nonexistent dependents on her tax returns.

Joseph E. Ford, tax consultant and former campaign manager for Powell, testified Mrs. Dodson told him she kicked back her congressional salary to Powell. Powell denied this on the witness stand last Monday.

Mrs. Dodson, who did not testify during the two-week trial, is business secretary at the Abyssinian Baptist Church in Harlem, where Powell is pastor. Both are Negroes.

Designed in an ever-popular, two-story style, "The Cambridgeport" offered today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, offers a wealth of comfortable well-planned living space for a reasonable building cost.

Six good-sized rooms are included in this plan with complete living facilities provided on the first floor so that you can have the second story finished at your convenience. And, even after the second floor is completed, most families find a first-floor bedroom very useful. It makes a handy guest room and also the ideal room for any member of the family to use when ill.

60-Foot Lot

Measuring 35 by 29 feet, the house has a cubage of 21,500 feet. Cubage of the garage is 6,600 feet. You'll need only about a 60-foot lot on which to build this house. And, you'll find any type of exterior finish equally suitable.

Both a living room and a dining room are provided for in this house plan. Should you desire to use the room designated as a dining as a den, library, etc., such a conversion can easily be made. But, if the living room is to serve a dual function, arrange to have a door connect this room with the central hallway.

The separate breakfast room will prove very useful—especially if you do decide to make the living room a combination room. Also opening off the kitchen is the pleasant and good-sized utility room where you can easily locate your laundry equipment. You'll appreciate the handy cupboards suggested for this room, too.

Garage Access

Direct access to the garage is provided from this utility room so that in storm weather you won't have to go outside.

On the second floor of the house you not only have two unusually spacious bedrooms but an abundance of storage space as well. This is a fact that will be especially appreciated by the lady of the house.

The regular bath is located on the second floor but the first floor lavatory is large enough to accommodate a bathtub, too.

Basement

In the basement of this house only the heating equipment must be installed. This should be placed under the living room. The remaining basement area will then be yours to do with as you wish.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices write Home of the Week, Inc., 87 Weybosset street, Providence, R. I.

Bathroom Equipment

Manufacturers of bathroom equipment are beginning to give more attention to the younger members of the family. Small lavatories mounted close to the floor, junior size water closets and even baby toilets are available now, encouraging youngsters to develop proper bathroom habits. As the children grow, these miniature fixtures can be replaced easily with adult facilities.

Tile Bath Is Traced
Back 5,000 Years

Today's modern bathroom, waterproof and handsome, can be traced far back some 5,000 years to King Urnimar of Babylon.

Archaeologists believe that the ancient monarch had the first ceramic tile bath in history, and it was his bathroom which led to the modern one of today. King Urnimar, even then, preferred a shower to a tub. He had his servants splash water on him, the water draining off on the tiled floor.

Today, ceramic tile is still preferred material for modern baths. It now comes in some 200 different colors and a variety of shapes and sizes the ancients never dreamed of.

How to Stop Bath Windows From Rusting

Steel casement windows in a bathroom are peculiarly susceptible to rust, exposed as they are to high humidity.

To protect them, first remove all rust with sandpaper, then clean the metal with steel wool and turpentine. Apply a coat of red lead or other rust inhibitive paint, allowing plenty of time for drying.

Finish the outside of the window frame with a good quality trim paint, applying at least two coats. The inside should be finished with a top grade enamel.

After baths and showers open the window to ventilate the room and dissipate the moisture on glass and metal. High humidity can also be reduced by an exhaust fan.

New Steel End Units Round Off Cabinets

Quarter-round and half-round open end units of steel are obtainable for installation at the ends of rows of steel base kitchen cabinets. The tops of these units usually are covered with the same material as adjoining counter tops to lend a continuous line effect. They not only prevent much bumping and knocking against protruding corners but provide decorative shelves for the display of plants and knick-knacks.

'Blind Nailing' Method

In application of roll roofing, the "blind nailing" method gives best appearance and protection from the weather. Blind nailing conceals all nail heads. When strips of roofing are laid horizontally, the top edge of a strip is nailed. As application proceeds, this edge is covered by the bottom edge of the next strip, which is firmly cemented in place with quick-setting asphalt cement. Roll roofing has a wide range of uses. It makes a serviceable roof covering for small farm service buildings, garages, and storage and shop structures.

Warning on Varnish

Be careful about doing any varnishing in the basement unless the basement is both warm and dry. A damp basement will prevent the varnish from drying.

Local Members Plan to Attend Firemen's Parley

A representation of Ulster county firemen will be attending the eighth annual fire instructors and County fire coordinators conference in Elmira, May 21 to 25. Winfred Snyder of Hurley, Ulster county fire coordinator will be among 40 county coordinators attending and Harold A. Sanford, deputy fire chief of Kingston Fire Department and county fire instructor will be among 90 students enrolled in a pump operator course at the conference.

Coordinator Snyder is responsible for training, mutual aid and Civil Defense activities which pertain to fire.

THE CONFERENCE is under the direction of Chief Charles M. Fales and members of the State Fire Bureau staff. Coordinators attending will participate in discussions on county and state fire service problems including state and county mutual aid plans, control center procedures, two-way radio techniques, the state fire training program, The Multiple Residence Law, airplane crash rescues and fire fighting procedures, school fire inspection, federal matching funds and fire protection on the Thruway.

Cellar Water Often Drains From Roof

More cellar dampness is caused by roof water than by underground water sources. Tests have shown that in most cases the ground water level is well below a cellar floor.

Cellar walls can normally keep out the amount of rain water that falls on the ground next to the foundation. But when the greatly increased drainage of a roof is allowed to seep into the small areas next to the house, cellar walls are subjected to a task for which they were not designed.

Good Holding Power

"Threaded" nails have exceptional holding power for such jobs as laying flooring, installing gypsum wallboard, and siding. You can also use them in repairing loose flooring and eliminating "bumps" under tile flooring and "popped" nails in dry wall installations. You drive them in like nails, yet they twist like screws.

Faulty Chimney

The cause of a faulty chimney can often be traced to down-drafts caused by surrounding trees or tall buildings. If this is the case, a properly designed chimney top may be helpful in deflecting troublesome air currents.

Pastel Hints for Wood

A popular finish for western pine paneling is a pastel tint. Mix one part of paint with 16 parts of thinner. Wipe or brush the paint on, then wipe off all the excess with a rag.

Japanese Girls Grow

Tokyo (AP)—The girls of Japan are getting taller and slimmer. The Education Ministry checked five million students, found girls averaged four-fifths of an inch taller than two years ago. And country girls, formerly plump and short, are approaching the dimensions of their more willowy city sisters.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, May 18—Mrs. R. J. Goldman of Long Island recently called on Mrs. Goldman's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Burnstine, and granddaughter, Laurie. They were accompanied here by Mr. Burnstine's maternal grandmother, Rose Gittleston of Long Beach, Calif.

Edward Van Kleeck, Olive Legion Post officer and driver of the Ashokan Fire Company truck, has employment at Poughkeepsie IBM. For several years he was mechanic at the Haver Garage.

Callers in the village Saturday included Mrs. Alonzo Winchell and daughter, Mrs. Joseph Lamphere, of Kingston suburbs. They had taken Susie Winchell, life-long resident of the Beechford neighborhood, to her home following a sojourn of several months in the town of Ulster. Mrs. A. Winchell is the former Ella Jones of the old village of Olive Branch.

Earl Lane, Wittenberg lumberman, has been cutting a tract of timber in this section.

Mrs. Harry Weeks of uptown Kingston visited her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Elmendorf, over the weekend and called on other former neighbors in the twin villages.

Robert Thornell of the Ontario High School faculty is reported as resting comfortably at his home in Ashokan following an illness Wednesday, May 9.

Gerald Westcott, Main street, Kingston businessman, was a caller in the hub of the reservoir country Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Olsen and children, Roy and Christine, motored to New York Saturday to spend Sunday with Howard's mother, Inga Olsen.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnson of Rochester spent Sunday and Monday with their son, Eugene Johnson and family. Mother's Day the couple were joined by Eugene's grandmother, Maude Nolen of Clearfield, Pa.; his aunt, Mrs. Gordon Stanton; her husband and two children of West Granby, Conn.

Two One-Act Comedy Plays Will Be Given By Trinity Lutheran Church Members

Two one-act comedy plays and a variety program will be presented by the Trinity Lutheran Women's Guild and Men's Club Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the assembly hall of the church, corner of Spring and Hone streets.

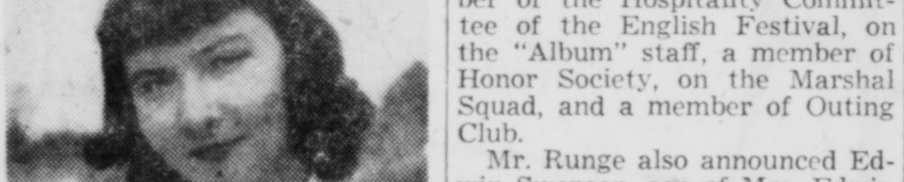

Appearing in "The Professor Roars" are Charles Troll, Mrs. Ida Eymann, Mrs. Helen Scharp, Mrs. Barbara Tomczyk and Mrs. Muriel Ausanio. It is the story of an egotistical professor who is finally deflated as a result of his own actions. "It's a Gift" depicts the difficulties a man may encounter when his wife leaves him to rest in the park while she finishes the daily shopping. Featured in the cast are Frank Snyder, Mrs. Cornelia Henninger, Mrs. Elizabeth Hyatt and Frank Doyle Jr.

Both productions are under the direction of Mrs. Frank Lawrence Gollnick.

Specialty acts will include Blanche Van Buren, baton twirling; Barbara Ann Williams, ballet dancing; Anita Williams, tap dancing; Richard Kittle, accordion and songs by the Mid-Hudson Barber Shop Quartet.

Woodstock Area Democrats To Hear Nominee For State Senate

Woodstock, May 19 — Woodstock Township Democratic Club will kick off the 1956 election campaign at its meeting Friday, May 25, at 8 p. m. in the upstairs room in Deane's.

Featured speaker of the evening will be Attorney William B. Byrne, Jr., of Catskill, and Democratic nominee for State Senator from this district. Mr. Byrne will discuss the issues in the forthcoming election, particularly as they apply to Woodstock and Ulster county.

Mr. Byrne is a graduate of Kingston's elementary and high schools, and was president of his junior and senior class. He received the American Legion Medal, AB degree from Holy Cross College, and Law Degree from Harvard Law School. He was associated with the firm of Dugan, Barkhuff and Dugan, in Albany for two and a half years, and has engaged in private practice of law in Catskill for the past six years. He has had extensive practice embracing trial work, surrogate's court and real estate.

A veteran of World War 2, Mr. Byrne saw almost five years of service, half of which was in the Pacific Theatre. He entered service July, 1941, and was separated from service, April, 1946 with the rank of captain.

Mr. Byrne is married and the father of four children. His father, William B. Byrne, a Kingston businessman, was a partner with the firm of Byrne Bros. (Monuments) with a long record of community service. Mr. Byrne's father also served as treasurer of the city of Kingston for several terms and has been a life-long Democrat.

Active in Democratic politics in Greene county on village, town and county levels, Mr. Byrne was appointed village attorney for Catskill, and also serves as Greene county transfer tax attorney. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus, Catskill Post American Legion, Member of Board of Directors of Catskill Rotary Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Rip Van Winkle Club, Greene County Democratic Committee. Also, chairman of Rotary sponsored Sportsmen's Show for benefit of Catskill Boys Club, former chairman of the Greene County Chapter American Red Cross and present member of its Board of Directors, member of Greene County Bar Association and member of St. Patrick's Church, Catskill. His hobbies include "colored movie photography, fishing and swimming and he was a former football and basketball player for Kingston High School.

Before Mr. Byrne's speech, there will be a short business meeting of the club, which will include the annual election of officers.

Refreshments will be served as usual after the close of the formal meeting.

Local Student Meets Duke of Edinburgh

Woodstock, May 19 — Allan K. Sloan has written to his parents Mr. and Mrs. Allan E. Sloan of Zena, that on May 11 he met HRH the Duke of Edinburgh and had a short chat with him at the annual Fulbright reception for students and advisors, held at Drapers, the Old Guild Hall in London. Sloan was one of about 15 selected students who talked with the Duke before he addressed the group. The Duke, Sloan wrote, "is an engaging chap with a good sense of humor."

"We had a short discussion," Sloan continued, "on the planning of London, i.e., the piece of land young Prince Charles owns as the Duke of Cornwall." London planners and the Minister don't want to develop as an office building.

Afterwards the Duke gave an "amusing and interesting" talk to the assembled students.

Sloan has been traveling and studying abroad during the past year on a Fulbright scholarship, attended Harvard and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania. He has been visiting many cities in Europe in connection with his studies in city planning.

Area Businessmen Schedule Meeting

Woodstock, May 19 — There will be a meeting of the directors of the Woodstock Business Association, Tuesday at 8 p. m., in the upstairs meeting rooms in the Huttly building. Most important on the agenda will be a discussion of plans for the coming season.

Ed Bauman, secretary, while spending the winter at Anna Maria, Fla., became a member of the Chamber of Commerce and observed how other towns which have seasonal visitors, meet their problems. He will present a number of new ideas for consideration at the directors' meeting.

Tillson Meeting Monday

Tillson, May 19 — Approximately 40 members of board of education and committees on school affairs within the Town of Rosendale met at the Tillson School recently to discuss generally the situation faced by small schools similar to the local one which has lost state aid. No definite plan of action was taken by the group, but it was decided to hold another meeting Monday at 8 p. m. to discuss organized plans or protests to the new law.

Girl Scout Camp Will Open July 1

Girl Scouts and Brownies of Ulster county are now registering for Camp Wendy, Girl Scout summer camp located two miles from Wallkill, which opens July 1.

Camp Wendy consists of 68 acres of open and wooded land and a camp comprising tents, cabins and Adirondack shelters overlooking the Girl Scouts own private Lake Louise.

The three encampments this year include July 1 to July 14; July 15 to July 28 and July 29 to August 11.

During Rally Day last week Brownies and Girl Scouts brought their parents and friends to show them the favorite camp site. Each one attending brought his own picnic lunch and participated in the games and activities.

The men pitched in to help Malcolm Sergeant, chairman of the Camp Committee and Ernest Ahlbert, chairman of the Maintenance Committee with some of the odd jobs to be done before camp opens, July 1.

Members and friends of the Scouts are encouraged by Mr. Sergeant to plan picnics or outings on any Sunday in May in order that the men can complete the odd jobs to be done at camp prior to opening.

It was announced that Troop 3, Rosendale won the prize for the troop with the largest number of members present at the rally and Troop 1, Ellenville was awarded the prize for the Troop with the largest number of adults present.

Sir Beerbohm in Coma

Rapallo, Italy, May 19 (AP) — Sir Max Beerbohm, British writer and caricaturist, went into a coma today. Beerbohm, 83, has been steadily weakening during the past two days in a clinic, where he has been treated for heart ailment and gout. His doctors refused early today to make any comment on his condition but then issued a medical bulletin saying he had entered a coma.

More Than 1,000 Plan to Attend Methodist Parley

More than 1,000 ministers and laymen will gather May 24-27 at Broadway Temple-Washington Heights Methodist Church, Broadway at 174th street, New York city, for the 157th annual session of the New York Methodist Conference.

Among others participating in the program will be the Rev. Ralph E. Spoor Jr., of Ellenville; the Rev. Joseph H. Rainear and the Rev. Howard D. McGrath, both of Poughkeepsie.

The program will be marked by legislative sessions, annual reports of boards and agencies, determination of fiscal and administrative programs, the ordination of deacons and elders and the appointment of ministers to churches for the coming year. Bishop Frederick Buckley Newell, resident Bishop of the New York Area will preside.

Principal speakers will be Harold E. Stassen, special assistant to the President of the United States, who will address the Conference at 8 p. m. May 25 following the annual laymen's dinner; Dr. Nels F. S. Ferre, professor of philosophical theology at Vanderbilt University, who will deliver the traditional conference lectures May 25 and 26 at 11:45 a. m.

Bishop Newell will preach at the worship service at 11 a. m. May 27 on "Created In His Own Image" and will also preach the ordination sermon at 3 p. m. followed by the reading of ministerial appointments by Bishop Newell.

Do Opposites Attract?

Ann Arbor, Mich. (AP) — Beliefs that men and women are attracted to each other by opposite characteristics and that married life means more than old wives tales, a University of Michigan professor contends. Dr. Lowell Kelly, past president of the American Psychological Assn., says research shows "husbands and wives were no more alike after 20 years of marriage than they were at the beginning." Dr. Kelly also says that although he has been unable to uncover evidence that opposites attract each other he "could think of nothing more boring than to come home to my psychological twin."

MR. AND MRS. JOHN W. CARTER (Tom Reynolds Photo)

Marie Carraro Weds John William Carter; Plan to Make Future Home in Kingston

Miss Marie Josephine Carraro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Carraro of Glasco, became the bride of John William Carter, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Joseph Carter, Saturday, May 12 at 2 p. m. in St. Joseph's Church, Glasco. The Rev. Archibald Damm officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Patrick Buonfiglio was at the organ and Theresa Sasso sang the "Ave Maria."

White pompons decorated the church for the wedding. Given in marriage by her father, Miss Carraro wore a gown of nylon tulle fashioned with basque bodice, short sleeves with gauntlets and a V neckline. Her billowing skirt featured two tiers of embroidered tulle cascading from the waist and sweeping into an aisle wide train. The bride's French illusion veil was secured to a Princess crown embellished with seed pearls and iridescent paillettes.

Miss Carraro carried a white orchid on a white prayer book. Louise Cafaldo of Glasco was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of Deauville blue Georgette taffeta fashioned with a molded bodice criss-crossed with matching bands, scoop neckline and a full waltz length skirt. She wore a tiara of pleated horsehair with a rhinestone studded afternoon veil.

Bridesmaids were Frances Cafaldo and Angela Misasi of Glasco. Their gowns were identical to that of the maid of honor. All the girls carried white and blue carnations on a fan.

Best man for his brother was Clyde Carter of 37 Hanratty street. Ushers included Joseph McCordie, 89 Third avenue and Charles Corrado, 380 Washington avenue.

A reception was held at the Flamingo for approximately 200 guests following the ceremony.

Miss Carraro is a graduate of Saugerties High School and is employed by IBM in Poughkeepsie.

The bridegroom graduated from Kingston High School and served two years with the U. S. Army in Germany. He is now employed by IBM in Poughkeepsie.

For her wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the bride chose a light blue dress and matching coat, navy accessories and an orchid corsage.

When they return from Washington, D. C., the couple will make their home at 45 Jarrold street.

The opening bid of two no-trump shows 22 to 24 points with balanced distribution and all four suits well stopped. In today's hand, South stretched one point on the theory that his strong five-card diamond suit more than made up for the missing point.

Unfortunately for South, his partner also chose this time to stretch. North had only 10 points and therefore could assume only 32 points in the combined hands. North knew that 33 points are usually needed for slam, but he thought his strong five-card club suit would make up for the missing point.

The result of the two stretches was that South was in a slam with only 31 points in the combined hands. This is not as bad as it sounds. If we never get to a worse slam contract, we should feel satisfied with our bidding.

After all, only the spade lead gives South any trouble. Put the queen of spades in the East hand, and West wouldn't dream of leading spades away from the king against a slam in no-trump. As the cards actually lay, West opened the king of spades. South saw that he could win the ace of spades, five diamonds, and five clubs. This would be enough for a meek down one. East would signal his ace of hearts, and West would save the queen of spades and a heart to the end.

The only chance was to win the first trick and lead a spade right back. South did so, and West took the queen of spades. East had to follow suit and could only hope that his partner would suddenly develop mental telepathy in order to find the heart shift.

As is usually the case, West didn't develop new gifts. He was afraid to lead a new suit for fear of giving declarer a free finesse. West therefore led a third spade, and South gratefully took his 12 tricks.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

WHY PICKET LINES AT THE HOT SHOPPES THRUWAY RESTAURANTS?

Local 11, AFL-CIO has established picket lines and is handing out throw-aways only because the Hot Shoppes management refuses to break the Laws of The State of New York and of The United States.

Under these laws, our employees, and they alone, have the right to choose the union, if any, which is to represent them. Local 11 doesn't want to give them any free choice. Local 11 has by-passed the employees and has demanded that we sign a contract recognizing it without the consent of our employees. Local 11 wants us to do its organizing for it.

In other words, Local 11 wants us to be a party to a "deal" between labor union leaders and our company, as a result of which our employees would be deprived of their legal right to decide whether or not they want to be represented by Local 11.

Our wages and working conditions are as good as or better than any union wages and working conditions anywhere on the New York Thruway.

We are operating non-union because we do not have the right to impose Local 11 or any other union on our employees against their wishes.

A union contract such as Local 11 wants would be your guarantee that we are disregarding the wishes of our employees and are violating the State and Federal labor relations laws.

All we ask is the right to function in compliance with the laws of the United States and the State of New York.

We have asked Local 11 whether it wishes an election, but Local 11 officials have rejected an election as the way out because they haven't succeeded in signing up our workers. They want to represent them against their will.

We ask you to continue to patronize a restaurant which (1) is paying better than union wages; (2) is maintaining better than union conditions; (3) is unwilling to violate the State and Federal Labor Relations Laws; (4) respects the wishes of its employees; (5) serves good food; and (6) serves it efficiently and courteously.

Getting only two hits, Onteora Central School still managed to capture its third straight victory in the Ulster County Athletic League, a 4-2 decision over winless New Paltz Central yesterday at Boiceville.

It was the fourth win in seven games for Coach Tom Wheeler's youthful and fast improving team and moved them over the 500 mark for the first time this season and into sole possession of third place.

THE INDIANS staked Jim Rose to a four-run lead in the first three innings and he made it stand up the rest of the way. Norm Ronk was the victim of the early inning damage as the Hugenots went down to their sixth loss.

Ted Jensen scored the first Onteora run in the second inning. He strolled, stole second and tallied on an error by shortstop John Morgan.

In the third, the Indians nailed Ronk for the rest of their runs. Bob Shults led off with a pass and raced all the way home on a hit-and-run single by Rose. After Jensen got on with an error and swiped second, Norm Boggs rifled a two-run producing single.

NEW PALTZ broke the scoring ice in the fourth when Morgan doubled and Jack Rasmussen singled. Larry Johnson's team got their final marker in the next stanza on Floyd Dierdorf's two-bagger and Ralph Harcourt's base knock.

Rose gave five hits and walked four and struck out four. Ronk was credited with four strikeouts and passed three.

Needles Races Eight Rivals in 80th Preakness

Baltimore, May 19 (AP)—The die will be cast near sundown today on whether a strong-willed colt named Needles will be the first in three years to come away with a Preakness triumph and have a shot at racing's Triple Crown which hasn't been won since 1948.

Calumet Farm's Citation was the last to annex the first two legs and he went on eight years ago to sweep the Belmont. Dark Star in 1953 was the most recent Kentucky Derby winner to come up to Maryland only to finish out of the money in the final stretch Preakness and it was his last race.

NEEDLES IS the life of the 80th Preakness, overshadowing the eight other entries with his sensational running in the afternoon of races after showing distinct dislike for morning work.

In fact, only Calumet's Fabius, incidentally considered as a serious strong up possibility. Ranked as outsiders are D. G. Arnstein's Eiffel Blue, Helen Kellogg's Come On Red, W. E. Britt's No Regrets, Winding Way Farm's Golf Ace, Dino Liozzi's Count Chic, and H. C. Fruehauf's pair of Rotherham and Fleet Feet.

Most of the backing for Fabius is based on his loss by only three quarters of a length to Needles in the Kentucky Derby. However, Fabius also lost twice to Needles in his home state of Florida.

COME ON RED and Count Chic are coming back for their second straight crack at Needles after finishing third and fourth in the Derby. Mrs. Kellogg thought it was worth $7,500 to try by making Come on Red a supplementary entry two days after the Derby.

It cost the same premium eligibility fee for Golf Ace whose main claim to fame was a first place in the Wood Memorial only to be disqualified.

So if either Come on Red or Golf Ace wins, their net profit out of the gross prize of $132,800 will be $76,800. It will be $84,250 to any of the millionaires and make Needles half a millionaire in 15 races. He has won nine times, the last three $100,000 events, and never has been worse than fourth.

Mantle, Berra Hailed Best One-Two Punch In Major League Ball

By ED WILKS (The Associated Press)

You can love those New York Yankees or hate 'em, but you've got to look upon Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra as the best one-two punch in baseball—the bread-and-butter guys for Ol' Casey Stengel.

Mickey and Yogi have the look of the old Yankee window-bustlers, the nearest thing, perhaps, to the Babe Ruth-Lou Gehrig punch that chilled the American League in the late 1920's and early '30's.

Mantle, only 24, leads the AL with 15 homers, 45 hits and 400 batting average at the moment. The only big department he doesn't lead is runs-batted-in. Yogi has the edge in that one with 33 to Mantle's 32. Berra's the AL runnerup in hits (40) and home runs (12) with a .357 batting average.

The power-partners put those statistics to work again last night as the Yankees, scooting into a 2½-game lead in the AL, outlasted the Chicago White Sox 8-7 in 10 innings. Second place Cleveland dropped an 11-inning hassle with Washington 5-4. The Boston Red Sox, handing Kansas City a fifth straight defeat 5-4, took over third place from Chicago by a half game.

IN AN AFTERNOON game, Detroit defeated Baltimore 3-2. In the National, free-swinging Cincinnati put an end to Brooklyn's six-game winning streak 7-6 in 10 innings. Philadelphia, behind Curt Simmons' three-hitter, side-tracked the St. Louis Cardinals 4-2, and the Chicago Cubs topped Pittsburgh 3-2. Threatening weather postponed Milwaukee at New York.

Mantle and Berra each had four hits against the White Sox, and each drove in three runs. Mantle belted a pair of homers—one left-handed, the other right-handed—and for what it's worth, paced in his 60-homer season.

Mantle's second drive of the night came off reliever Millard Howell with two out in the ninth and tied the score at 7-all. Andy Carey's single broke it up in the 10th, following a Gil McDougald single and a sacrifice.

It was Mantle and Berra who kept the Yankees perking. Mantle contributed to a first-inning run in the third after Mantle homered in the fifth. Mantle doubled and Berra singled him home.

WILDNESS and fielding errors led the Sox make up the ground lost to Mantle and Berra, however.

There were nine pitchers in the game. The Yankees used five, with Tom Sturdivant the winner.

Cleveland fell back with the collapse of its usually top-flight relief combo of Don Mossi and Ray Narleski. Pete Runnels, who had five straight hits, clipped Narleski for an RBI-single in the 11th. In the ninth, Runnels had tripled off Mossi, scoring the tying run as Roy Sievers lined a single off Narleski. Bunky Stewart, fourth Washington pitcher, was the winner.

Mickey Vernon tripled home a run in Boston's four-run first at Kansas City, then scored Billy Goodman with the winning run on a sacrifice fly in the seventh. Frank Sullivan won his third, but needed relief from Tom Hurd in the ninth. Hec Lopez homered with a man on for the first A's runs.

Marlboro Drops 9-6 Decision; Topples to 4th

Two four run innings paced Highland High School to a 9-6 victory over Marlboro Central yesterday in an Ulster County Athletic League skirmish at Marlboro. The win was the sixth in seven loop outings for Bob Relyea's second place team while Marlboro stands 3-4 and has slipped to fourth.

Six errors and an assortment of wild pitches and passed balls figured in the Highlanders' scoring in the big innings. A trio of boots in the second frame followed by Dave Williams' two-run single got Highland off winging.

After Marlboro netted one in the second and three runs in the fifth to tie, Highland unloaded singles by Williams, Charlie Crimi, John Sagarese and Johnny Gersch plus a walk, wild pitch and two passed balls for another quartet of tallies off Dom DiCapua who went all the way.

Bob Valentino was nicked for single runs in the sixth and seventh, but managed to hang on and finish despite issuing nine passes and yielding eight hits.

Robinson Knocks Out Olson In Fourth to Retain Crown

By JACK STEVENSON

Los Angeles, May 19 (AP)—

Take the word of boxer Carl (Bobo) Olson, the lightning left of middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson strikes twice.

Olson, the former champion from San Francisco, lasted just six minutes longer against the dancing dandy from New York's Harlem last night than he did in Chicago last Dec. 9.

A left hook put him to sleep for the full count and more at 2:51 of the fourth round in their title bout scheduled for 15. The last previous time they met the end came at exactly the same time in round No. 2.

The 35-year-old Robinson apologized jokingly for not having had time in the bout to prove his legs still were in shape to go a full distance.

PAY DAYS for both the winner and the loser were forestalled by legal action. Olson's estranged wife obtained a court order to tie up his share, and Uncle Sam slapped an income tax lien against the champion's share.

A crowd of approximately 20,000 paid an estimated gross gate of $200,000 or more for a new California record. The previous high was $196,720 for the heavyweight Rocky Marciano and Don Cockell in San Francisco.

Each fighter was guaranteed 30 per cent or $75,000 of the net receipts.

FOLLOWING LAST night's televised twilight affair, co-manager Joe Gasser declared Sugar Ray will now go under the light heavyweight title. It was the general understanding he might do so if the current title holder, Archie Moore, graduates fully to the heavyweight division.

Olson said "I never saw the punch and never heard the referee count to 10. All I know is that when I got up, I saw all the people standing."

For the edification of newsmen and not Bobo, Robinson said:

"I set him up with a right to the body and the knockout punch was the left hook to the jaw. I hit him good."

OLSON TOOK THE blow flush on the chin and collapsed backward.

The fighters went into the fourth round with Robinson leading on points.

Olson's estranged wife, Helen, obtained a Superior Court order to tie up his earnings pending settlement of their marital fight. The Internal Revenue Department said Robinson owed $89,981.91 in back income taxes. This represented claims disallowed in Ray's returns for the years 1944 through 1949 and 1953.

"I know I owe it, just let me pay it," was the champion's comment.

Sugar Ray weighed 159½ for the outdoor title fight in Wrigley Field. Olson barely made the 160-pound limit—he had to take off his boxing trunks to do it.

Reading Second In Eastern Loop

(By The Associated Press)

The Reading Indians could thank pitcher Jim Grant today for their sole possession of second place in the Eastern League.

Grant limited the Schenectady Blue Jays to four hits and pounded out a couple himself at Schenectady last night to lead the Indians to a 2-1 victory.

The Indians pulled to within a game of the first-place Williamsport Grays, who dropped a 10-inning 6-5 decision to the Syracuse Chiefs at Syracuse. Harry Durkin singled with one out and a runner on second to break up that game.

In the only other league action, the Albany Senators bombarded four Allentown pitchers for 16 hits at Albany for a 16-10 triumph that moved the Senators into third place, nine percentage

Rawding Averages 176 In Friendship League

Dot Rawding dominated the Friendship A League with a brilliant 176.84 average for the 1935-56 season, according to final figures.

The Federal Venetian Blind's team anchor finished eight points ahead of the runnerup, Marie Kelekian, who posted 168.83.

Nell Alverson was third with 163.82, and Elizabeth Egan had 160.62 to round out the top five.

Mrs. Rawding also rolled high single (244) while Mrs. Egan posted 621 high series. Team marks were Jones Dairy's 921 and 2473.

about; but as his mother was going away his head appeared at one of the little openings. Tommy—Mama! His mother stopped. Tommy—Mama, you can lock me in here if you like, but I won't lay any eggs! Life—a puzzle with a peace missing. The train had stopped on the line and the conductors were tired of answering stupid questions. Passenger—What's the matter, conductor? Conductor—The signalman up in the tower has got red hair, and we can't get the engineer to pass the tower. Wedding Custom The wedding cake originated with the Romans. In those days, the bridal couple ate cake made of salt, water, and flour, and the bride held three ears of wheat, symbol of plenty. Portland Cement Paint Cement paint works on damp masonry. In fact, the surface should be moistened before this type of paint is applied. Spraying also is advisable after application to insure complete bonding.

McKay Leading Stevenson Tops Kefauver Vote

Portland, Ore., May 19 (AP)—Democrats gave Adlai Stevenson a boost toward the presidential nomination and Republicans put up a lusty cheer for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket in returns today from Oregon's primary election.

Stevenson, pointing toward bigger game in Florida and California, stayed a consistent pace in front of Sen. Estes Kefauver in their write-in contest for 16 Democratic delegates in yesterday's balloting.

THE 1952 Democratic candidate pulled 61 per cent of the write-ins against Kefauver's 39 per cent on the basis of returns from 40 per cent of the vote. More than half of the party's voters penciled in their presidential choice.

But Oregon Democrats appeared lazy compared with Republicans who showered unopposed President Eisenhower with a high popularity vote. He received a second term blessing from 87 per cent of those who cast laborious ballots.

What's more, with only a minimum of pre-election prodding, nearly 20 per cent of the Republicans took the extra trouble to write in Vice President Nixon for re-nomination.

FORMER SECRETARY of the Interior Douglas McKay, undefeated in eight Oregon elections, topped Phil Hitchcock in a hard-fought race for the Republican senatorial nomination. If it holds up, it will pit McKay against his arch-enemy, Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse, in the fall.

The primary turned up what could be only construed as a protest vote against Morse, who quit the Republican Party last year. While Morse had no trouble winning the Democratic nomination, one of five Democrats supported a Hood River service station operator named Woody Smith.

No cross-voting by Republicans and Democrats was allowed. Entering the state too late, Stevenson and Kefauver did not appear on the ballot, and the response to their write-in appeals was considered surprisingly good.

THE WRITE-IN by Democrats for President and Republicans for Vice President is binding on the state's delegations to the respective party conventions. Democrats, busy enough marking as many as five separate ballots, didn't indicate anyone for the running mate spot.

Here's the latest vote in the unofficial returns from 1498 of the state's 2519 precincts. Kefauver 21,602, Stevenson 31,198, Stevenson lead 9,596. Eisenhower (unopposed) 84,284.

Nixon (write-in) 15,872 (1377 precincts). Hitchcock 38,152, McKay 48,146, McKay's lead: 9,994. Morse 50,640, Smith 11,005. Morse lead: 39,635.

Weeks Opposes Credit Clampdown

Hot Springs, Va., May 19 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks said today the Federal Reserve Board's latest clampdown on credit may depress business prospects somewhat.

Weeks, meeting here with his 165-member business advisory council (BAC), told reporters that because of its possible effect on business expansion, he disagrees with the Reserve Board's action last month in increasing discount rates. Such action tends to reduce borrowings by increasing interest rates.

THE SECRETARY thus agreed with Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, who told a congressional committee in Washington Thursday that if the decision had been his to make, he would not have acted as the board did.

Money and credit problems and the economic outlook were to be discussed in BAC's closed session today. Humphrey, Presidential Adviser Arthur S. Burns and Undersecretary of the Treasury W. Randolph Burgess were to participate. A dozen members of the council were scheduled to report on business prospects in their own industries.

BUSINESS LEADERS attending the meeting said yesterday that they saw no need for a government-subsidized crash program for developing atomic power plants if Congress will write new rules for atomic patents and insurance.

They said private utilities are moving rapidly toward commercial nuclear power, and could go faster if what they called "obstacles" were removed. Eugene Holman, chairman of Standard Oil Co. and head of BAC, summarized the closed-door discussion for newsmen.

Predicts Big Cut Of Foreign Aid

Washington, May 19 (AP)—Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) predicted today the House Foreign Affairs Committee would vote to chop from 500 to 750 million dollars off President Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid request.

Vorys, a senior committee Republican, offered one of the more conservative estimates of expected fund cuts as the House group prepared for a showdown vote on the big bill next Tuesday.

Rep. Burleson of Texas, a veteran Democratic member, said he thinks something like 1 1/4 billion dollars will have to be slashed off the measure if it is to win House approval this election year. Committee Chairman Richards (D-S.C.) said in a separate interview it is well known he favors a substantial cut. He did not name a figure.

The multi-million-dollar differences of opinion among the congressmen reflected a strange series of votes behind closed committee doors yesterday which had the effect of leaving the $4,900,000,000 figure temporarily almost untouched.
